SOCIETIES PAY HONOR TO PROMINENT MEMBER

On Monday evening, St. Paul Guild gave a handsomely appointed sixty-third o'clock dinner at the home of Miss Mary Kimball, on East Washington street, who was assisted by Mrs. Adeline Crissock, the home being prettily decorated in beautiful fall flowers.

Miss Carrie R. Ainsworth, whose marriage to Mr. E. T. Clark of Cleveland has been set for next month, was the guest of honor. At the close of the dinner, Miss Mildred Albro, president of the Guild, presented Miss Ainsworth in behalf of the members, with a beautiful string of pearls, carrying the thought "each pearl a prayer" for her happiness; and a handsome mayonnaise set from Mrs. Jed Hobart. The surprise was so complete, Miss Ainsworth was almost speechless, for it is seldom societies of churches present their members with strings of pearls.

Following the dinner a short business session was held. The reports were most encouraging, the treasurer's report showing no indebtedness and a fund in the treasury.

The Eastern Stars who are noted for their delightful entertaining, gave one of their prettiest parties on Tuesday afternoon at the handsome country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Maytham, on Lafayette road (Mrs. Maytham being worthy matron), in honor of Miss Carrie R. Ainsworth, the chapter first worthy matron, whose marriage to Mr. E. T. Clark of Cleveland has been set for an October date. The affair, which was perfect in all its details, was a most pleasing surprise to Miss Ainsworth.

In honor of the occasion the home, which is large and spacious, was beautifully decorated in gorgeous asters, the living room was in the five colors of the Eastern Star, while the music room was in a perfect bower of flowers, was red and white.

The guests assembled at 3 o'clock and enjoyed the beautiful lawn until the strains from Lohengrin announced dinner. Owing to the large assembly of ladies, nearly 100, a self-service was prettily arranged at the tables, which were a picture of not only delicious eatables, but was a dream of beauty, massed in white clematis. Two of Medina past matrons, Mrs. Jennie Hendrickson and Mrs. Lois J. Orr, served the coffee; Mrs. Maytham was most ably assisted by Mesdames House, Strong, Zeigler, McDowell, Wise, Kellogg, and Borger.

Miss Helen Foskett made a beautiful bride's cake which contained one's future happiness deftly hidden within, which was drawn by Miss Ella Canavan getting the ring, Mrs. Lillian Strong the thimble, and Mrs. Della Longacre the dime.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Rachel Waite, worthy matron of Lodi chapter, and Mrs. Dora Street, worthy matron of Litchfield chapter, two matrons with whom Miss Ainsworth has been closely associated, and Mrs. Helen Ryan Pelton of Lakewood, who was one of Miss Ainsworth's officers.

Mrs. Waite, in behalf of Medina chapter, presented Miss Ainsworth with a dozen beautiful maderia napkins, a fitting close to a perfect day of pleasure.

WHEAT

The season for harvesting the wheat crop is here now. The crop does not promise a yield of wheat up to last year, or the year before. Wheat with the winter killing "fly," weevil, and other troubles the crop this year has had a hard time coming through.

However, every farmer will have some wheat and some will have more than they ever had before.

In this connection we wish to call the attention of wheat raisers to a few facts, viz:

We have mechanical facilities for handling your wheat which are as convenient for you and as efficient as can possibly be built.

We have a knowledge of the wheat handling business gained by long experience and study which adds very much to the value of the service we can render you in handling your grain.

Our grain handling service is organized with a view to giving reliable painstaking and uniform service. We can handle your grain and in a manner satisfactory to you and everyone gets the same treatment.

When you are ready to sell your wheat talk it over with us.

SEED WHEAT—If you have wheat that is free from rye and cockle unmixed with other varieties and otherwise suitable for seed, see us about it. We will pay a premium for seed wheat. We can use the following varieties: Poole, Portage, Fultz, Trumbull, Fultz selection number 127, Gypsy and Gladden.
